RE: Charles Benninghoff v. Superior Court,
Real Party In Interest: The California Bar

Appellate Number: G035923
Supreme Court Number: S141459

Dear Chief Justice George and Honorable Associates Justices,

This letter is being sent to you on behalf of Charles Benninghoff and his request for help from you. I am interested in this case as a citizen of California and the plight of the working individual who, it seems, is over-regulated by a court system that gets involved in matters where it does not belong.

I am under the impression that Mr. Benninghoff was representing people before California agencies after having received Legislative Counsel Opinion #18108. This opinion specifically states that he is able to perform these duties.

The laws are written by legislature not the courts. Therefore, if the legislature states as a resigned attorney Mr. Benninghoff can perform agency work then the courts should have no ability to prevent him from doing so. The legislature should be the only governing body to revoke his privilege to perform this line of work.

If the courts can re-write the laws then our State Constitution is of no value.

Sincerely,

Melissa A. Phillips, CPA
